

NANETS 2023 Multidisciplinary NET Medical Symposium
Montreal, Quebec
October 4-6, 2023

Continuing Education Information

This continuing education activity is provided through collaboration between the North American Neuroendocrine Tumor Society (NANETS) and AffinityCE. This activity provides continuing education credit for physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, nurses, pharmacists, and technologists. A statement of participation is available for other attendees.

Learning Objectives

- Examine the role of Medical Oncologists in NET care in the community
- Evaluate models for pharmacist collaboration with providers in caring for patients with cancer
- Review the resources needed to provide optimal NET care in the community
- Describe commonly used liver-directed therapies, appropriate utilization, and mechanisms of action
- Review the application of liver-directed therapy in a personalized manner based on tumor genetics and biomarkers
- Define strategies that could help decrease disparities in access to subspecialty neuro-endocrine care
- Recognize limitations and pitfalls of radiographic evaluation
- Describe how radiation therapy may be optimally incorporated with the increasing use of immunotherapy for Merkel Cell Carcinoma
- Review updates in the management of carcinoid heart disease (CHD)
- Recognize the importance of multidisciplinary discussion in oligometastatic disease related to surgery or radiotherapy in NET
